At Kuoni Congress we see ourselves reflected in the growing commitment of the events industry towards sustainability, with its increasing amount of measures and standards that reveal best practice and foment a culture of continual improvement. Increased interest in sustainability from our clients, who seek to assure that their own supply chain is robust and reliable, further encourages us to provide a service that permits our clients to comply with the values that they seek to uphold.

Kuoni Congress began its sustainability journey back in early 2016. The division is addressing many topics in its commitment to reduce its impact and promote responsible business practices, parts of which coincide with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), and also following the ISO20121 standards.
