

Targeted Consultation on the future of the LIFE Programme

Targeted consultation on the future of the LIFE Programme

With the new European Green Deal, Commission President Ursula von der Leyen has placed climate and environment at the top of the political agenda. The goals include carbon neutrality by 2050 and a review of the 2030 targets, a European Climate Pact, leadership in the circular economy and clean technologies, a new biodiversity strategy for 2030 and a drive towards zero pollution.

The LIFE Programme is the only EU fund dedicated to the environment and climate. During the next programming period (2021-2027) LIFE will help Europe deliver those ambitions, by contributing to:

- The shift towards a circular, energy-efficient, renewable energy-based, climate-neutral and resilient economy;
- The protection and improvement of the quality of the environment;
- Halting and reversing biodiversity loss and tackling the degradation of ecosystems.

The general objectives of the programme have been provisionally agreed, and the task is now to draw up the first Multiannual Work Programme covering the period 2021-2024.

As part of the consultation process for the next programming period (2021-2024), the Commission is seeking to consult a broad range of stakeholders on the details of the future implementation of the LIFE programme.

Completing the questionnaire should take you no more than 20-25 minutes. The questionnaire is structured as follows:

- Section 1: About you - Information on respondents
- Section 2: Priorities and strategies - Are the draft programme priorities supported by stakeholders? Are there any significant gaps?
- Section 3: Implementation (only relevant and visible to those that are familiar with the call for proposal procedure under LIFE or Horizon 2020) - Questions on the possible financing of small grants for nature and biodiversity and project selection procedure.
- Section 4: Additional comments: if you wish to provide additional information, comments and suggestions.
- Section 5: Follow up – Information about contact details and privacy settings

The consultation findings will be taken into account during the preparation of the Multiannual Work Programme for LIFE. All interested citizens and organisations are invited to respond to the consultation. We value your opinion on the future direction of the LIFE Programme.

Thank you for taking the time to complete this questionnaire.

SECTION 2: Priorities and strategies

Given its size and characteristics, the LIFE programme is not meant to solve all environmental and climate problems but is rather designed to act as a catalyst to promote changes in the environment and climate fields. The LIFE programme provides several types of grant funding, but it is not one of the EU's structural investment funds, aimed at providing large-scale investments to support regional development and cohesion policy.

The types of activities that each grant can support include capacity building, governance support, testing / demonstration, awareness raising, stakeholder engagement, definition and implementation of strategies and action plans, spurring policy and legislative change, promoting best practices etc.

According to the Commission's proposal (see link <https://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?uri=COM%3A2018%3A385%3AFIN>), the new LIFE Programme offers support under four sub-programmes:

1. In the environment field:

- a. The sub-programme 'Nature and Biodiversity', which aims at halting and reversing biodiversity loss and tackling the degradation of ecosystems.
- b. The sub-programme 'Circular Economy and Quality of Life' will support the other aspects of the Union's environment policy, particularly the transition to a circular economy, the protection, restoration and improvement of the quality of the environment, including the air, water and soil, and the promotion of good environmental governance.

2. In the climate field:

- a. The sub-programme 'Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation', which aims at co-financing all those projects that contribute to the development and implementation of the climate related elements of the European Green Deal and the Union's climate policy framework.
- b. The sub-programme 'Clean Energy Transition' that aims to facilitate socioeconomic transition to renewable energy and increased energy efficiency in Europe.

2.1 Do you feel that the current programme design (with the four sub-programmes described above) has a sufficiently broad scope to capture your current environmental / climate-related problems? (please tick one response for each of the four sub-programmes)

SECTION 3: Implementation

This section of the questionnaire is about the detailed design of the programme, therefore it is only open to stakeholders with experience in LIFE/Horizon 2020 (based on your answer in section 1.5).

3.1. It is envisaged that in future the sub-programme “Nature and biodiversity” might include a new element, namely small grants (for example less than 100.000 EUR, possibly with higher co-financing rate than traditional projects), in addition to integrated projects and traditional projects. These small grants would be aimed at unlocking the potential of local actors to deliver practical conservation actions. Do you agree that there is a need to provide these small grants, to finance small-scale local actions for nature and biodiversity conservation?

Single Choice Question

- (a) Yes, all over the European Union
- (b) Yes, but only in the Outermost Regions and in Overseas Countries and Territories taking into account their rich biodiversity and their specific needs
- (c) No
- (d) I do not know/ no opinion
- (e) Other

If "Other", please specify

Text of 1 to 500 characters will be accepted

3.2. What do you think would be an appropriate amount for “small grants” to finance local biodiversity conservation actions?

Single Choice Question

- (a) less than 30 000 EUR
- (b) less than 60 000 EUR
- (c) less than 100 000
- (d) I do not know/ no opinion
- (e) Other

If "Other", please specify

Text of 1 to 500 characters will be accepted

3.3 Calls for future LIFE proposals can be organised in a one or two step procedure.

- Under the one-step procedure, applicants submit a full project proposal, which is then evaluated. Depending on the call for proposals, 1 out of 5-10 project proposals is typically awarded a grant.
- The two-step procedure asks applicants to first submit a 10-page concept note, which is evaluated. Applicants who are successful in the first step are then invited to submit a full project proposal, which is evaluated. Around half of the full project proposals are typically awarded a grant. The two-step procedure results in a longer process for the applicants than the one-step call but requires less initial investment. However, the information that can be submitted in a concept note is limited and applicants might find it difficult to provide a good description of all the relevant aspects of their project in this limited space.

Which process do you prefer?

Single Choice Question

- (a) A one-step for proposals
- (b) A two-step call for proposals
- (c) I do not know / no opinion

Please, elaborate on your answer here:

Text of 1 to 500 characters will be accepted

A two-step call for proposals allows applicants to minimize the time and resources invested in the first step and commit to a full-fledged proposal only if their project idea is likely to be funded. Secondly, it allows applicants to have enough time to prepare and anticipate what their proposal needs to be successful in the second-stage.

A two-step approach should not take longer than the one-step application procedure.

3.4 Calls for proposals can either define broad themes that proposals should address or be more detailed and specific.

- Broader calls for proposals rely on the existence and attraction of good ideas, and arguably provide more flexibility for applicants.
- More detailed calls for proposals provide more guidance to applicants on the challenges to be addressed, the scope of the work or the results to be achieved.

To what extent do you think the call for proposals should prescribe the challenges, scope and results of activities that applicants should respond to?

Please rate on a scale of 1 to 5 what you consider to be the right level of detail and request for specific results (i.e. 'prescriptiveness') of the call, with 1 being relatively broad and general calls and 5 being very detailed and specific.

Level of detail in the call of proposals

	Nature and Biodiversity	Circular Economy and Quality of Life	Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation	Clean Energy Transition
1	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
4	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
I do not know/ no opinion	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

SECTION 4: Additional comments

4.1. If you wish to add further information, comments or suggestions – within the scope of this questionnaire – please feel free to do so in the box below (max. 1000 characters) or upload / submit your own document (at the end of questionnaire):

Text box:

Text of 1 to 1000 characters will be accepted

The focus of the 2021-2027 LIFE programme on the socio-economic context, within which renewable energy operates, is of paramount importance and we very much welcome its new “Clean Energy Transition” sub-programme.

However, we are concerned that the proposed changes to the funding rules will prevent important stakeholders from participating in cross-border EU market uptake projects. We believe the ideal LIFE programme would have the breadth of the 2007-2013 Intelligent Energy Europe Programme and the co-financing rates and efficient online procedures of the ‘Horizon’ programmes.

Regarding the co-financing rates, those of the next generation LIFE risk being substantially lower compared to those of Horizon. Under LIFE 2021-2027 beneficiaries would only be eligible to a co-financing rate of 60% for direct costs and 7% for indirect costs. If this materializes, participation in future Coordination and Support Actions (CSAs) would become financially unattractive or even unviable.
